Here is a pdf AF made of our checklist; now you can make a poster out of it and hang it on your wall.

Hi Carolyn

Thank you for remembering me. I converted the Excel spreadsheet (awkwardly but it is all there) into PDF and combined so your letter has all the attachments. Easier to read the spreadsheet as Excel but now you have it all combined into 1 doc for historical purposes for your files. I don't have Wayne Miller's email address or I would include him on this email.

If you ever need to save something as a PDF and it comes out odd, use the Microsoft "Print as" feature and surf the printers until you see Adobe PDF. Then go into properties on the print page and select where you want it to save. In this case I used my desktop so I could meld the letter and the 2 spreadsheet pdfs. You might have to have Adobe Professional to do melding. Before you select print you can fiddle with the page size and orientation, all columns on one page, etc. in print view until you are happy. In any case you should always be able to print a Microsoft doc as an Adobe PDF. Of course you aren't selecting an actual printer so it's odd that they call it printing. I hope this wasn't too confusing.

Cathy

Now you have it as 1 doc also. That would be the one to send to AR.

Cathy

Please see the attached letter and excel spreadsheet, providing joint agency comments on AF's March 2017 Decision Tree for EBR and a list of data quality objectives and requirements to be incorporated into the next version of the EBR workplan to move discussions forward on ST-12. Looking forward to our discussions tomorrow.

Happy Solstice!
